Fortunately, many maintenance organizations contain a value potential that has not yet been realized. But where is this treasure hidden and how can it be revealed? Find out yourself in the GAME.

“the GAME is an excellent mix of theory and practice, it is a great learning experience”

What is the GAME?

The GAME is an interactive business game for maintenance and reliability professionals. Various maintenance teams compete with each other to develop the most value adding maintenance strategy for a fictive company called Evolve. In the annual strategy assessment, the teams are faced with questions like: how many technicians do we need, how many critical spare parts should we have on stock, what is the optimum preventative maintenance for this plant and which improvements should we implement in our organization? Each year a benchmark report is provided to the teams to see how their strategy has influenced their performance and what needs to be done to further improve it. The team that has created the highest economic value after four budget years wins the Most Valuable Maintenance Award.

What do you learn?

In this unique event participants learn how to steer maintenance using Key Performance Indicators, benchmarking data and maintenance best practices like RCM, TPM and RBI. The GAME is based on Value Driven Maintenance (VDM^{XL}), a leading management methodology that helps companies to maximize the economic added value of maintenance. During the game various show cases are presented of companies who improved the economic value of maintenance significantly.

“The GAME is a fun and challenging way to learn the concept of VDM^{XL} and I now know how to sell maintenance to non-maintenance people”
